BUILDING UPON THE SAND. 'Tis wise to woo, 'tis well to wed, For so the world has done,

Since myrtles grew and roses blew, And morning brought the sun-But have a care, ye young and fair!
Be sure you pledge with truth;
Be certain that your love will wear

Beyond the days of youth. For if you give not heart to heart, As well as hand for hand. You'll find you've played the 'unwise part,

And 'built upon the sand.' 'Tis well to save, 'tis well to have A goodly store of gold. And hold enough of sterling stuff -For charity is cold.

But place not all your hopes and trust In what the deep mine brings; We cannot live on yellow dust,

Unmixed with purer things. And he who piles up wealth alone, Will often have to stand

Beside his coffer-chest, and own Tis 'built upon the sand.' 'Tis good to speak in kindly guise, And soothe when'er we can; For speech should bind the human mind,

And love link man to man. But stay not at the gentle words, Let deeds with language dwell; The one who pities starving birds

Should scatter crumbs as well. The mercy that is warm and true Must lend a helping hand; For those who talk, yet fail to do, But 'build upon the sand.'

ROMANTIC. - Quite a romantic incident recently occurred at the court of the ex-Queen Isabella. One of the maids of honor, a young gir of great beauty, lost a portemonnaie containing 800 frances, which was brought to the Queen a few days afterwards by a young and handsome peasant. Nothing was missing, and the Queen ask the lad what reward he wanted for want no reward but one kiss from that young lady." Her Majesty smiled, and turning to the young girl, said, "Will you grant his request, Carmen!" Carmen hesitated for a moment, but finally she resolutely went the lad and therein. his honesty. The young fellow had observed the lad, and throwing her arms around his neck kissed him three times, amids the general laugh ter and applause of the assembled company.

On Tuesday evening last Mrs. A. Heitert, wife of Willian Heitert, of Broadway, St. Louis, destroyed her life by plunging headlong into a well near the house. She had been sick about one week with small-pox, and in the fever she was perfectly insane.
